Summer Wines Par Excellence.
Chris Xander's Virginia Clarets.

Whatever may be the reason for the present extraordinary demand for these, either the explanation of their composition in recent ads, and notably of the generous amount of soluble iron which Nature apportioned to these Wines, or the enormous dilution their rich viscosity permits, or the pleasant taste and flavor that distinguish them, it is a fact that orders are coming in from all sides with expressions of satisfaction with the quality of the four standards of these Virginia Clarets, viz:
